The Centre for Modern Languages

For detailed information regarding the courses and exams offered by the CLM please visit: www.clm-granada.com

The University of Granada's Centre for Modern Languages (CLM) offers both local and international students a multicultural, multilingual environment where world perspectives and traditions are exchanged on a daily basis. Over 5,000 students from 35 different countries around the world come yearly to the CLM to study Spanish language and culture, while Spanish students are studying other modern languages in the classrooms right next door. Recognized by the Cervantes Institute for excellence in the delivery of a broad array of language programmes, the CLM is a pioneer in Spanish language instruction for international students, with origins that date to the delivery of its first programme nearly 50 years ago.

Upon arrival students take a language placement test and are placed into one of nine levels of Spanish language taught at the CLM. Utilizing a communicative approach in the classroom and the most up-to-date technologies, highly qualified faculty provide students with a programme of instruction designed to immerse them fully in the language. Special emphasis is given to interactions in real-life situations.

The CLM provides many additional services including free WiFi, accommodation with host families or in shared flats and medical insurance.

Courses at the Centre for Modern Languages

■ Intensive Spanish Language Courses, are offered every month of the year (January – December).

Intensive classes are taught 4 hours/day, 5 days/week, for a duration of 2, 3 or 4 weeks.

(See the online Calendar for exact dates.)

■ The Hispanic Studies Course and the Spanish Language and Culture Course are semester-long programmes in which students combine the study of Spanish language with elective classes selected from a wide range of options in areas such as economics, history, politics and literature.

■ Intensive Spanish Language and Culture Courses, are offered during the summer months (June, July and August). Students are enrolled in 5 hours of class per day, 5 days/week, for 4 weeks and combine Spanish language study with elective classes chosen from various subjects.
