ERASMUS CODE: IRL DUBLIN 38

CALL FOR PARTNERS IN THE AREA OF PSYCHOLOGY

IADT is highly interested in setting up ERASMUS Bilateral Agreements in the area of Psychology, as we offer a 4 year BSc (Honours) in Applied Psychology.

Applied Psychology is the practical application of psychology to the real world and includes areas such as educational, forensic, human factor, organisational and sport psychology. One of our uniqueness is that staff and students explore the area of cyberpsychology. A list of modules is listed below:

Year 2 modules: 4 core psychology modules (Cognitive Psychology, Developmental & Lifespan Psychology, Personality and Psychometrics, and Research Methods (including Statistics)) and either Psychology and Design (Information Design & Multimedia and Software Design) OR Psychology and Practice (Sports & Health Psychology and Organisational Psychology).

Year 3 modules: 4 core psychology modules (Social Psychology, Neuropsychology, Abnormal Psychology and Research Methods). Psychology and Design students study Web Applications and Usability Engineering. Psychology and Practice students study Educational Psychology.
