

الكلية اليمنية لدراسات الشرق الأوسط

Yemen College of Middle Eastern Studies

Summer 2012

Professor Thomas Stevenson
(Ohio University)

Will be delivering a course on

Anthropology of Yemen

June 10th – July 11th (50 contact hours) (3 credit hours)

Among the key questions to be addressed are what is Yemen and what makes someone Yemeni? How do these ideas differ throughout the country? What is a tribe? Why is tribal identity important? What are other forms of identification? How is gender conceived in Islam, within the tribe, and within different regions? How is gender performed? Are notions of identity and gender the same in rural and urban centers?

In addition, an archeological field trip is included with Dr. Muhammad al-Nood of Sana'a University.

For more information contact our Admissions Fellow, Mark Trewren at ycmes@ycmes.org or visit our website: <http://www.ycmes.org> and student blog: <http://yementhroughoureyes.wordpress.com/>